

Fibre – transforming lives of consumers

- Mr Bob Jordan, an amazing silver surfer
- 83 years of age and a serial early adopter. O2's first mobile customer in Ireland, he is now enjoying a 37 Mbps fibre link to his home
- Keeps in touch with friends all over the world using email and Skype
- Books his holidays online, banks online, pays his car tax online, and shops online
- Wishes he had access to more council services from the comfort of his living room
- His grandchildren are also very taken with the speed of his internet connection.
